

Berlin October 19, 1947

Dear Cousin Harold

We received your letter dated September 29, which included your father's death notice/obituary and we are sending our heartfelt condolences by way of this letter. Your father had a strong faith in Jesus Christ; he will not want for anything. May his soul rest in peace. I will miss him a lot; his letters always reminded me of my parents. He had not written for a long time and I was sad; now that I know about his past illness and the fact that he was no longer able to write, I understand why I not received mail from him; I will never again get another letter.

He always had great compassion and understanding for our miserable situation showing his kindness in the loving way he packed the food he sent so we in the old homeland wouldn't die of hunger; now that also has come to an end; all good things have to end.

Now dear Harold seek comfort in God; your father is well.

Also console your sister Ella and pass on my greetings; I can't write to her since I have no address.

Warm greetings to you and your dear family, your cousin Anna Steguweit
Please don't forget us.

Dear Harold I hope you can share these few lines with Aunt Helen.